WHAT'S IN YOUR TOWER?

Dan and Fearghus have visited lots of Martello Towers in Ireland and along the East coast of England, some are empty, some are full of rubbish, and some are open to visit. There are museums, hotels and restaurants and even arts centres like the Martello Tower you are in now.

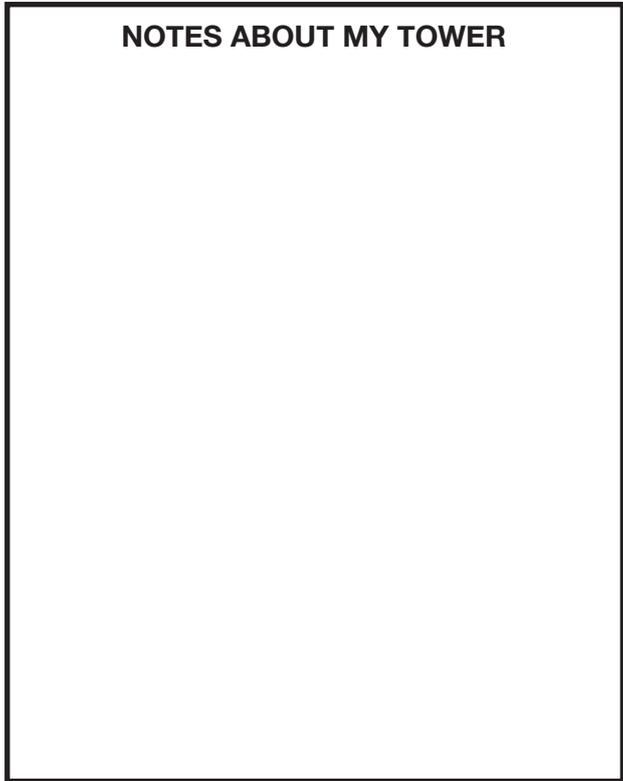

If you could turn your own Martello Tower into anything at all, what would it be? a roller skating rink perhaps, or a zoo? or maybe you could use it as a school classroom! Use your imagination to create the most amazing tower attraction. Draw your ideas onto the tower below and don't forget to add some stairs so you have a ground floor and a first floor. Write some notes about your tower in the space on the back of this sheet, does it have a name? what's the outside like? is it open every day, is it free to visit? what's on the roof?

TATTERED OUTLAWS OF HISTORY QUIZ

Teste your observation skills and see if you can answer these questions based on the films showing on the screens in the tower.

- * Describe one of the characters moving across a tower, what are they wearing and how do they move?
- * How did the artists film in a circle?
- * Not all of the towers have an open roof, describe one of the spaces
- * Can you remember three distinctive sounds you've heard on different films?
- * How many screens are there?
- * Looking past the top of the towers name five things you can see in the background of the films
- * You are standing in a Martello Tower on the East coast of England, where are the towers in the films?
